

Headache Medicine Fellowship

Headache Fellowship

The UCSF Headache Center is seeking a fellow for a one year UCNS accredited Headache Medicine Fellowship Program. Openings are available for start date of July 1, 2020 as well as July 1, 2021.

The Headache Center has a comprehensive program of inpatient and outpatient headache management. The fellowship will encompass clinical management of adult and pediatric patients with variety of headache disorders. Pharmacological, behavioral, and minimally invasive injection techniques are taught and practiced. Interdisciplinary training is also done in conjunction with the UCSF Pain Medicine Department. The Fellow will have an opportunity to participate in clinical research projects and clinical trials. Fellows are also actively engaged in teaching neurology residents. Educational objectives will be augmented with sponsored attendance at appropriate Headache Society meetings.

How to Apply

Interested candidates must have completed an accredited residency in Neurology, Internal Medicine, Pediatrics, Family Medicine, Rehabilitation Medicine, or Anesthesiology, and be eligible for a California medical license. Candidate should email curriculum vitae and three letters of reference to Rebecca Michael, MD via email: Rebecca.Michael@UCSF.edu <sup>[1]</sup> or mail to Rebecca Michael, MD, Assistant Professor, UCSF Headache Center, 2330 Post Street, Ste 610, San Francisco, CA, 94115.

The University of California is an AA/EEO employer. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities and women.
